SOME RECOLLECTIONS OF THE WISCONSIN STATE PRISON.

The conviction and sentence of James S. White, of Milwaukee, brings to mind many interesting facts connected with several persons who have served in the state prison. Mr. White was at one time city comptroller of Milwaukee, and for years was called "Honest Jim White." He also served in the legislature of 1871. He is an excellent business man in many respects, but one day when when want was pressing him he sold $8,000 of Milwaukee's bonds, and misappropriated the money. He was arrested, convicted, and sentenced for a term of two years and a half in the state prison. White is a tall, magnificent looking man, and has a firm, dignified tread as he heads the gang of convicts in marching to and from the prison shops, where he is engaged in cutting leather for boots and shoes. He bears his unfortunate lot with remarkable fortitude, and seems determined to keep up as good cheer as possible during the two years one month and fifteen days he will be obliged to remain in prison.

There is another ex-member of the Wisconsin legislature in the state prison—Lars L. Gunderson—late postmaster at Cumberland, in Barron county. He served in the legislature of 1880. While postmaster he cheated the money order department out of $5,571. He was arrested, tried in the United States district court, and last year was sentenced for two years in the state prison.

The prison has had still another ex-member of the legislature, Dr. Charles H. Orton, of Milwaukee. He sat in the assembly in 1866. A few years ago he was arrested for passing counterfeit money, and after conviction was sentenced to prison for one year. He was quite conspicuous in Milwaukee politics for a time, but he became so corrupt that his party abandoned him, and he abandoned the city.

Probably one of the most noted characters that was ever confined within the prison walls, is Daniel E. Townsend, whose alias is Ross Raymond, the noted scoundrel and journalist. In 1881 he was convicted at LaCrosse of obtaining money under false pretenses, and was sentenced to the prison for one year. He is now in jail in New York city. It is not likely that in all the states of the Union there can be found a more accomplished swindler than Townsend. He has been all over the world. He was once on the London Standard, and also on the New York Herald, the San Francisco Chronicle, the Cincinnati Enquirer, and many other papers. He has the manners of a gentleman, the face of a missionary, the check of a metropolitan newspaper reporter, and the reserve and nerve of a gambler. Queen Victoria decorated him for his services as war correspondent in Egypt. He married three rich women in less than ten years and robbed and deserted all of them. While in Paris in the spring of 1884, he ordered a dinner for Ismail Pasha, for which he never paid a franc, and to clap the climax of cheek and villainy, he borrowed 900 francs from the hotel proprietor and then quit the city. He robbed Francis A. Walker, Potroleum V. Nasby and many other prominent men. His swindling operations not only embraced America and Europe, but also the West Indies. Last summer he went to New York, and in his swindling career accidently lost his balance, and was arrested.

A good many readers of the Gazette have heard of Mrs. Sarah J. Van Vliet, the Milwaukee forger. In 1873 she had a check which called for $9. She was a sharp woman, and made the check read $900, and drew the money. She was arrested and sentenced to the state prison for two years. Mrs. Van Vliet was an extraordinary woman. She was finely educated and was a good writer. She claimed to have written "Ruthege" and other works. Several years ago she was engaged with Mrs. Howe, the Boston bank swindler, in the blackmailing business. She was a woman with ten talents, but prostituted all of them. After leaving the prison she went to St. Paul, where she was killed when thrown from her carriage.

In looking over the list of young men who have served in the Wisconsin state prison, the one which will be considered as having made the most complete work of life and its opportunities, is Alphens S. Foote, lately of La Crosse. He succeeded "Brick" Pomeroy to the editorship of the La Crosse Democrat. He is a young man of excellent attainments and possesses a good education. He married one of the most accomplished young ladies of La Crosse, a daughter of a wealthy lumberman of that city. Foote has ability, but he lacks integrity. Vincent, his father-in-law, was willing to help him to any reasonable amount, but that did not keep Foote from rascality, and he forged a paper which cost him five years in the state prison. After serving his time he went to Chicago, and in company with another ex-convict started a saloon, but it was short lived, being closed up by the police. While Foote was in prison his wife got a divorce, as a matter of course, and was married to a prominent conductor on the Green Bay and Minnesota railway.

The reformatory influence of a penitentiary can not be said to be very successful. It should be different, but many hard characters get within its walls, and prison life is not apt to do them much good. They serve their time, and as a rule, lose heart in the attempt to wipe out the stain and to build themselves up in a new life. But there are some exceptions to this rule. One Andrew H. Adams began a five year sentence at Waupun for forgery, commencing in 1872. He was pardoned before his term expired, went to Chicago, and succeeded well in business. Another man named Matthews, served a five-year term for embezzlement, and afterwards went to Minneapolis with hope and courage, and not only succeeded in business, but honorably filled an important city office. Successes of this kind are pleasant to note, for beside building up the shattered characters in these two cases, they will have, it is hoped, an important beneficial influence over others who shall make the effort to establish themselves in a new and a better life.

The nomination of Mr. Caswell will be particularly gratifying to the republicans of Rock and Jefferson counties, and while Walworth, Racine and Kenosha are disappointed in the result of the convention, they will submit gracefully, and cheerfully support Mr. Caswell. With a majority of one delegate in the convention it was only necessary for the three eastern counties to unite on some man and nominate him, but failing in a prolonged effort to do this, they have no ground for dissatisfaction, and they so understand it. In supporting Mr. Caswell, the republicans realize that there is no experiment and that his election means honest, able and fair representation of the entire district. His private character and public record are above reproach and the interest of his constituency will be carefully guarded. That he will be elected with an old time majority, is beyond question. The campaign of 1886 in the First congressional district will be free from personal strife and will be conducted on strictly party issues. This means, as it always has, success to the republican party. Mr. Caswell will not fail to do honor to the district that has honored him with the nomination, and if the candidates from the other congressional districts are men of the same type, the state will have occasion to feel proud of her representatives in the Fiftieth congress.

Commissioner Sparks, of the general land office, has prepared a statement showing the disposals of public lands for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1886, from which it appears that the total number of entries were 227,474, embracing an area of 20,991,967 acres. The amount of money received for this land was $5,412,767. The cash sales aggregated 3,775,493 acres, and the amount received therefor $5,757,891. Original homestead entries were made to the number of 61,632, covering an area of 9,152,125 acres. The lists of selections made by the railroad companies under the different grants aggregate 2,311,537 acres. The number of timber-culture entries made was 24,903, comprising 3,989,969 acres.

The Australian mail brings news that the German gunboat Albatross recently opened fire upon the natives of the New Hebrides out of revenge for their recent murder of Klein and Cullon. Twenty of the natives were killed and a large number wounded. The Albatross then landed her crew, whereupon the natives fled and took refuge on Pentecost Island. The Albatross then changed her position, and opened a terrible fire upon Pentecost Island from her Gatling guns, slaughtering the natives like sheep. The shots set many villages on fire, and they were totally destroyed.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Wisconsin presents a striking and instructive example of the advantages of the republican rule. It is well supplied with all the appliances of civilization and progress, including a fine railroad system, splendid educational facilities, commodious and attractive public buildings, etc., and yet it does not owe a dollar and does not have to levy a cent of tax for state purposes. The benefits have all accrued under republican management of state affairs, against the persistent protest and opposition of the democrats.

Lewis Brewer, the engineer who rushed the nickle-plate train into the disastrous wreck at Silver Creek, N. Y. at the cost of eighteen lives and twenty maimed, returned to Erie Pa., Tuesday. As soon as it became known that he was in the city great excitement resulted, and the engineer fled to escape both the officers and the wrath of the friends of his victims.

The democratic congressional convention of the third district met at Darlington, Tuesday, and nominated Hugh J. Gallagher, of that city, for congressman. Mr. Gallagher is an Irishman, well known throughout the district, has been mayor of Darlington and was the democratic nominee for secretary of state in 1884.

The Chicago Tribune: In Michigan they call the result of a prohibition and democratic fusion a succotash ticket. The name is appropriate. The democrats furnish the corn ingredient, or its essence, while the prohibitionists supply the active principle of the bean.

WRECKED BY A RASCAL.

THE CHARTER OAK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY ROBBED.

A President Who Was Left to Run the Concern Without Being Watched Disappears, Leaving the Usual Large Hole in the Assets—Other Companies That Will Suffer—Gone to Canada.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 23.—George M. Bartholomew, of this city, president of the Charter Oak Life Insurance company, of Hartford, is a defaulter in the sum of $137,000. Of this sum, $105,000 is actual cash, and $32,000 in paper. Since the reorganization of the Charter Oak in 1879, Mr. Bartholomew has had sole charge of the affairs of the company, never being obliged to make any report to the directors. On Saturday he informed the directors that, owing to the embezzlement of Thomas Plunkett in the Hartford Silk company and other concerns in which he was interested, he was unable to meet his obligations to the Charter Oak. He placed the amount at $105,000. The directors asked for his resignation, and it was given.

On Monday the directors discovered two notes amounting to $32,000 which he had discounted, and the proceeds of which he had used. Mr. Bartholomew left that afternoon for New York and has not been heard from since, though it is said that his family have learned that he is in Canada. Application for a receiver of the Charter Oak company was made Wednesday morning, and Judge Pardee, late in the afternoon, appointed Messrs. Brooks and Stedman as senior and junior receivers, respectively. The assets of the company, it is thought, will, with proper management, realize $1,500,000. The property is located in eleven states and varies greatly in value.

It was known that Bartholomew was affected by Plunkett's operations, but it was believed that he would pull through and have a large surplus. The announcement of his downfall creates a great sensation. He is connected with many large institutions and is endorser on a great deal of paper. He has lived here about fifty years, and was one of the leading business men of the city. Tuesday he resigned the presidency of the Holyoke Water Power company, of Holyke. He is heavily connected with the Florida Construction company. He is a large indorser for the Hartford Silk company and the Union Manufacturing company. So far as learned $360,000 of Hartford Silk company paper, $200,000 of Union company paper, $200,000 of Schuyler Electric Light company, a considerable amount of Charter Oak and some Holyoke Water Power company paper has come to light. This paper turns up in many different sections of the country (outside of Hartford), reports coming in from Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Providence, Holyoke, New Haven, New London and other places.

A director of the Charter Oak company said Wednesday evening that the first intimation he had of the terrible state of the company's finances was at Saturday's meeting. Mr. Bartholomew then said that he had sufficient capital to refund all that he owed. He gave no explanation as to what he had done with the money. He claimed to have been promised aid from Cyrus W. Field and other New York capitalists. He went to New York ostensibly to see them, and has not been heard from since. Another director said the company is completely wrecked. There is no money to its credit, and several drafts have already been protested.

R. E. Dustin, secretary of the Schuyler Electric Light company, of which Bartholomew is president, said Wednesday night that the company was sound. The employes were paid Tuesday—the regular pay-day—and received only 40 per cent. of their wages. Mr. Bartholomew is president of the Watkinson library, a trust of considerable magnitude, but Mr. Trumbull said he had no reason to believe that anything was wrong in the management of the funds. A prominent director of the Charter Oak company said to a reporter that the gentleman who audited the accounts of the company had known for some time that Mr. Bartholomew was indebted to it in large amounts. Charles E. Willard, secretary of the company, on being informed of this statement, said he did not for a moment believe there had been any collusion between the auditors and the missing president.

"Bartholomew," he continued, "was recognized by all the officers and stockholders as the backbone of the company. I hear, but do not know personally, that when the annual examination of the concern's condition was made any shortage of cash would be explained in this way: He said that he had placed the money in the bank in his own name to protect it from attachment, but that it was at the service of the company at any time. As for myself, I knew nothing about the finances of the company."

Bartholomew is a prominent Episcopalian. His outstanding personal paper is estimated at $1,000,000. He is now in Montreal.

Blamed the Conductor and Engineer.

BUFFALO, Sept. 23.—The coroner's jury in the Silver Creek accident case has returned a verdict blaming Conductor Harrison and Engineer Brewer of the excursion train for causing the accident by disregarding orders. Engineer Brewer appeared and testified, throwing the blame on a flagman who told him that the line was clear, but did not succeed in convincing the jury. There was a minority report, however, which attributed the accident to a misunderstanding, and did not blame any one. Harrison and Brewer were arrested and held for the grand jury. Fifteen deaths have occurred as the result of the accident.

AN IRISH LOYALIST SNUBBED.

The British Commons Sits Down on His Motion by a Large Majority.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—In the house of commons Wednesday afternoon Charles Edward Lewis, Conservative member for Londonderry city, moved an inquiry into the conduct of the magistracy and police of Londonderry on the occasion of the election disturbances on July 10th, which conduct, Lewis asserted, had caused a period of terror and excitement.

Morley said the whole case rested upon the evidence of the bishop of Londonderry and the testimony of Lewis himself, and declared that the latter was too much excited over the prospect of losing his seat to give an explicit account of what he saw, or even of what he imagined. The whole affair, Morley said, was the merest trumpery.

The Parnellite members demanded a division on the motion and it was rejected by a vote of 257 to 1, Lewis alone voting in the affirmative.

Dillon urged the release of Father Fahy, the parish priest of Woodford, who is now confined in the Galway jail.

Hugh Holmes, attorney general for Ireland, said he had no power to interfere in the case of Father Fahy after the decision of the magistrate committing him.

Sexton ventured the opinion that Father Fahy would prove to be the most inconvenient prisoner the government had ever held.

Dr. Tanner, upon being ordered by the speaker to cease his too irrelevant remarks, left the house shouting "This house is no place for Irishmen."

Afraid to Trust the Ministry.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—William R. Cremer, member for Shoreditch, in the house of commons Wednesday called attention to the fact that during the time intervening between the adjournment of the present session of the house and the beginning of the next, the foreign affairs of the country would be left for some months entirely in the hands of the government without the possibility of their being checked by parliament. He also deprecated the intervention of the government in affairs in Bulgaria, with which, in their present state, he claimed, Great Britain had nothing to do.

Churchill said that he in turn deprecated premature discussion of the situation in Bulgaria. It might precipitate a crisis, and this the government was anxious to avoid. The situation might at any moment become critical.

The appropriation bill was then adopted and the house adjourned until Saturday, when it will be prorogued.

Just previous to the adjournment Mr. E. S. Gourley gave notice that at the next session of parliament he would move the appointment of a committee to ascertain to what extent the fisheries convention with the United States can be amended or abolished.

Labor Rioting at Peabody, Mass.

PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 23.—While John Osborn, a non-union workingman from Proctor's tannery, was being escorted to the Salem line by four police Wednesday night, he was attacked by a mob of 500 strikers, who began to throw stones at him. One of stones, thrown by a man named Welch, struck an officer in the back. Welch was arrested and the mob then turned their attention to the officers, handling them roughly. The police fired several shots into the crowd, wounding, it is said, a boy named Edward Cassidy. Several others are said to be wounded. After the firing the crowd fell back. Osborn was safely conducted across the line. Welch was taken to the station, but afterward released on bail. There is much excitement over the affair and the police are prepared to suppress any further demonstration.

No Work on the Mississippi This Year.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 23.—Acting Attorney General Jenks has decided that the salaries and expenses of the Mississippi river commission can not be paid out of the $2,000,000 appropriated by congress at its last session for the improvement of the Mississippi river. Judge Jenks, in his opinion, holds that the $2,000,000 appropriation must remain inactive until a provision for the payment of commissioners' salaries and expenses is made by congress, unless the members of the commission are willing to serve without receiving any salaries and at the same time pay their own bills. It is thought that they will not do this, and that the season will pass without any work on the river improvements.

The President Back at Washington City.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 23.—The President and Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Folsom, Col. and Mrs. Lamont and their two children arrived here Wednesday night, reaching the Baltimore & Potomac station at 8:55 p. m. Although the president was expected to return to Washington some time Wednesday night, the hour at which he would arrive was known to but few, and so there was only a dozen or more newspaper men waiting at the depot when the train pulled in. Carriages were in waiting and the party were driven to their respective homes.

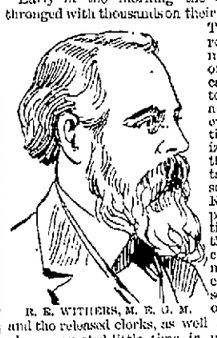
A DAY OF PAGEANTRY.

GRAND DISPLAY OF KNIGHTS TEMPLAR AT ST. LOUIS.

Exhibition Drills Witnessed by 125,000 People at the Fair Grounds—Gilmore's Band Discourses Magnificent Music—Procession of Odd Fellows at Boston Viewed by a Great Throng of People.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—The Knights Templar, the thousands of visitors, and a great number of citizens devoted their time Wednesday to the charity exercises at the fair grounds for the benefit of the Widows' and Orphans' Masonic home.

Early in the morning the streets were thronged with thousands on their way thither. There was no room for "one more" on any of the street cars; running to the grounds and vehicles of every description were utilized to convoy the eager spectators to the scene of the Knights Templar competitive drill and the Gilmore concert. The merchants' exchange held no session in honor of the event and the released clerks, as well as their employers, wasted little time in proceeding to the grounds.



R. E. WITHERS, M. E. G. M.

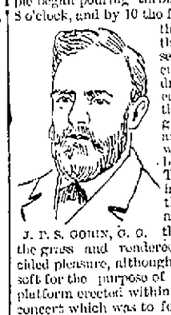
As the morning passed away the usually busy streets became almost deserted, so many availed themselves of the opportunity of contributing to the charities. The only class of people present in the city who did not generally attend the exercises were the members of the grand encampment, whose meeting at 11 o'clock made it absolutely impossible for them to leave the city.

HUGH MCCURDY, G. C. G.

They were represented, however, by a few who obtained leave to absent themselves from the meeting.

Hours before the time set for the grand drill, which was to open the proceedings of the day at the fair grounds, the street cars leading to the grounds were packed with people who proposed to make a full day of it. The streets and avenues of approach were thronged with conveyances of every description, and commanderies and bands which went in bodies.

Bands were playing, brightly uniformed knights were going through the evolutions of the manual, and the scene along the route from the center of the city was a most animated and inspiring one. The stream of people began pouring through the gates before 8 o'clock, and by 10 the free stands were more than half filled, while the grand and other reserved stands were occupied by some hundreds. The ladies seemed to form at least half the audience. The fair grounds, which are among the finest in the world, presented a beautiful appearance. The rains of Tuesday had cleansed everything, while the winds and bright sunshine of the morning had dried the grass and rendered promenading a decided pleasure, although the turf was a little soft for the purpose of drilling. The huge platform erected within the race-track for the concert which was to form perhaps the chief attraction of the day was gayly decorated with banners and emblems, as were the grand stands, booths, exhibit halls and the snowy tents pitched on the lawn for the use of commanderies entered for the drill.



J. P. S. GOUX, G. C.

By 11 o'clock fully 10,000 spectators were on the ground, and the stream of new-comers was unchecked and more dense than ever. Commanderies as they marched to the parade-grounds were received with loud applause, which grew into tumult as those of national repute appeared.

At 11 o'clock Adjt. Gen. McCulloch called the commanders of the various commanderies entered for drill into the starters' stand at the race track, and marking numbers on seven bits of paper shook them up in his hat. The drawing resulted in the following order for drill: De Molay, of Louisville, first; Zion, of Minneapolis, second; Louisville No. 1, of Louisville, third; St. Bernard, of Chicago, fourth; Detroit, fifth; Jackson, Mich., sixth; and Raper, of Indianapolis, seventh. The captains then repaired to the various commands, and at 11:45 De Molay, preceded by their band, marched from their tent across the paddock and into the race track in front of the grand stand, where they brought their swords to a "present." They had twenty-four men in line and three officers. As they moved over the track they presented a very picturesque and knightly appearance. The commandery confined itself strictly to the Knights Templar and fancy drill.

The Zion commandery, of Minneapolis, came next. The work of the Zion sir knights was excellent. They were all large men, and made an imposing appearance. The double cross of eight threes, and the division of it into singles of four threes each, and the wheeling of the same, evoked great applause. As they finished, by one dexterous move, they fell into lines forming the letters ZION.

The St. Bernard, of Chicago, with Capt. Purinton in command and L. L. Wadsworth and A. L. Addy as guides, then came on. The company filed before the stand, the band playing "Yankee Doodle," which excited the patriots in the grand stand. After returning past the stand with "support swords," they came down from the club house with the Salem cross, which they executed to perfection. On the way back to the south with the square they halted before the judges' stand and maneuvered. Returning north again the company got a great deal of applause with the triple cross, and succeeded this with a beautifully formed triple triangle, following this with a Maltese cross. The Detroits met them in line at their quarters and gave three cheers in return for the favor of escort accorded by the St. Bernard's to the Detroits at Cleveland in 1877.

Then Detroit came on with fifty-one men and six officers, and presented a drill which was generally considered perfect. They covered considerable ground and executed each movement with brilliant rapidity, and finished with a sword exercise, which was a feature of the entire exhibition. The Jackson, Mich., commandery gave a mounted drill. Raper commandery, of Indianapolis, only occupied a few minutes in some fancy evolutions, and then Gilmore's band led the procession of all the bands in attendance to a temporary stand, where the united bands, under Professor P. S. Gilmore, entertained the audience with a choice selection of music. The most notable of the concert was "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner," rendered with artillery accompaniment, the guns being set off by electricity; and a selection from "Il Trovatore," in which the anvil chorus was introduced.

The day remained perfect throughout and nothing occurred to mar its harmony. The success of the undertaking surprises all, there being no less than 125,000 people in attendance.

Owing to the fact that no prizes or diplomas were to be awarded and no official decision as to the merits of the competition was to be announced, the utmost good feeling prevailed.

In the grand encampment the entire day was devoted to matters appertaining to the reports of the grand officers and committee work of different kinds. At night Moolah Temple of the order of the Mystic Shrine celebrated the day of Arafat at Mecca and the Khorban Bayram. This ceremony is perhaps the most solemn and impressive of Masonic rites. The degree was conferred on a number of the faithful.

THE ODD FELLOWS AT BOSTON.

Protest Against Postponing a Competitive Drill—The Grand Procession.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The sovereign grand lodge I. O. O. F. was called to order by Deputy Grand Sire White at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and opened in regular form. Jurisdictions were called and a large amount of business presented, which was referred to various standing committees.

Representative Carlin, of Illinois, presented a protest from Excelsior canton of Chicago against the action of Lieut. Gen. Underwood in postponing the drill which was to have taken place Wednesday, demanding that the drill proceed, and if no other canton appeared for drill that the first prize be accorded to Excelsior canton. Past Grand Sire Durham raised the point of order that the protest was out of order in this body. The grand sire sustained the point.

The reports as they appeared on the journal were taken up. A number of appeal cases were passed upon or laid over until Thursday. The grand lodge then adjourned for the day.

The procession of Odd Fellows began at 1:30 p. m. and was not finished before 6 o'clock. It was a splendid spectacle, and it is estimated that 50,000 people witnessed it. The line is estimated to have contained 12,000 men, who rode or marched to the music of forty bands and drum corps through streets, which, if not profusely bedecked with hunting, were cleanly swept and well watered. The patriarchs militant, who preceded the lodges and encampments, were the novel features of the procession, and they elicited admiration all along the route because of their gorgeous uniforms and banners, and also by the evolutions which they from time to time indulged in. They were commanded by Lieut. Gen. Underwood of Kentucky, who was attended by a staff of at least thirty horsemen. Immediately after him came Maj. Gen. John C. Smith, of Chicago, in command of the division of the lakes. The Chicago Cadet band followed, preceding the First Illinois regiment, Col. C. C. Crabb. The regiment comprised Canton Excelsior No. 7, of Chicago, 50 men; Canton No. 33, of Big Rapids, Mich., 25 men, and 35 men of the First regiment of Colorado. The division of the Atlantic, division of the east and seven other divisions followed. The line was one hour and forty-five minutes passing a given point, and was reviewed by Mayor O'Brien and other prominent men in front of the city hall.

BIG SLAUGHTER OF CATTLE

Probable at the Chicago Distilleries—All the Exposed To Be Killed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Dr. Salmon, chief of the national bureau of animal industries, after an examination of the lungs of one of the ailing cows at the Phoenix distillery Wednesday afternoon, decided that the disease existing among the cattle there is pleuro-pneumonia. A meeting of the state live stock commission will be held soon, and it will probably be decided to have all the distillery cattle killed and the sheds burned, as there is no other way to prevent infection.

Dr. Salmon arrived here Tuesday night, and Wednesday afternoon, in company with a portion of the state live stock commission and State Veterinarians Atkinson, of Wisconsin and Casewell, of Illinois and other gentlemen, went to the Phoenix distillery, where a cow was killed and its lungs examined.

This disease does not affect the stock yards, where there arrive weekly 40,000 to 50,000 head of cattle, and there has not even been a case of Texas fever there. The distilleries where the disease exists are several miles from the stock yards, also.

Report on Postal Crookedness.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 23.—The annual report of Mr. W. A. West, chief inspector of the postoffice department for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1886, has been submitted. Mr. West says business has been brought up nearly to date, and that the force is too small for the constantly increasing needs of the service. Appointments are made solely on the merits of the appointees. During the year 960 arrests were made. Of these 243 were postal employes, 40 being postmasters; 33 clerks in postoffices; 14 railway postal clerks; 24 letter-carriers, and 27 mail-carriers. The persons arrested not in the service included 79 burglars and 21 ex-postmasters. Of the persons arrested 214 were convicted, 295 are awaiting trial and others were acquitted or failed of indictment. Of the money taken from letters $42,425 was recovered by inspectors.

Knew How to Defend Herself.

WINAMAC, Sept. 23.—A sensational shooting took place on Sunday night at Pulaski, a small town in this county. Jacob Clauts became intoxicated, and in his rounds went to the residence of Prior Wood and grossly insulted Mrs. Wood. Mr. Wood being absent, Mrs. Wood ordered him away. He left, but returned in a short time, when Mrs. Wood told him to leave or she would shoot him. He refused to leave, and she shot him in the face with a 22-calibre pistol. This failing to drop him, she hit him with a stone and kicked him senseless. He was carried to his home and the wounds dressed. He will recover.

An Outrageous Assault.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Sept. 23.—Near this place last Saturday evening, Jasper N. Summers was set upon by three persons while working in a field, and while two revolvers stared him in the face one person beat him into an almost unconscious condition. On Sunday, Ed Robinson and Watson Davis were arrested and were held for preliminary trial on the charge of assault with intent to kill in the sum of $2,000. This is a continuation of a feud between prominent families in Rock Creek township, Huntington county.

The Wreck Burned Up.

BUFFALO, Sept. 23.—A very bad wreck occurred on the Buffalo, New York & Philadelphia road at Holland, Erie county, at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. Freight train No. 8 was thrown off the track by a broken wheel. Thirty-five coal and oil cars were derailed and caught fire, making a terrible blaze. One brakeman was injured.

Another Challenge for the Cup.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The secretary of the New York Yacht club has received a challenge from the Royal Clyde Yacht club of Glasgow, Scotland, for a race next September for the America cup.

HAIL-STORM AT SOUTH BEND.

Most Destructive Ever Known—A Panic at the Fair Grounds.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 23.—The most destructive hail-storm that ever visited this part of the country passed over this city Wednesday afternoon. Hail-stones from the size of a marble to that of a hen's egg fell, and there is not a building in the city that escaped damage to north and east windows. Many heavy plate-glass windows were ruined and the streets are covered with broken glass. The Studebaker wagon works had 7,000 panes broken and the other manufacturing establishments, churches, and green-houses suffered heavily. The damage will amount to thousands of dollars. A great many casualties, but none fatal, are reported. Horses were frightened and a general stampede took place. At the state fair grounds, where 10,000 people were in attendance, a panic was caused by the storm and many people were more or less injured.

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes, that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all coughs and colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful discovery. MINNESOTA REPUBLICANS

MAKE THEIR SELECTION FOR STATE OFFICIAL PLACES.

A Lively Contest for the Gubernatorial Nomination—McGill Gets It on the Fourth Ballot—The Full Ticket and a Brief of the Platform—Nominations for Congress.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 23.—The Republican state convention met Wednesday morning at the Exposition rink to nominate a full state ticket. By act of the legislature four years ago the governor and certain other state officers to be chosen in 1883 were elected for a term of three years, so that the entire ticket should be chosen the same year, instead of having a part chosen one year and the remainder the next. The convention consists of 559 delegates, making 280 votes necessary for a choice. At the election three years ago, Governor Hubbard was elected by a trifle over 14,000 over Biermann his Democratic opponent.

At 11:30 Chairman Castle, of the state central committee, called the convention to order. Dr. A. C. Wedge, of Albert Lea, was chosen temporary chairman, and made a short address of thanks. The temporary secretaries were J. Bookwalter and C. Bullard. After appointing the usual committees, the convention took recess until 2 p. m.

Upon reassembling, J. J. McGaughey, chairman of the joint committee representing the Knights of Labor, the Farmers' Alliance, the Patrons of Husbandry, and the Trades and Labor assemblies of St. Paul and Minneapolis, was then introduced to the convention and made a brief address setting forth the demands of the various organizations he represented. The credentials committee not being ready to report, a further recess until 4 p. m. was ordered. The temporary organization was made permanent.

When the convention reassembled an informal ballot was taken which gave McGill for governor, 166; Gilman, 103; Gibbs, 98. Two regular ballots were then taken, and on the second of these one more vote was cast than there were delegates and it was declared void. There was great excitement at this time and much difficulty in restoring order, but finally another recess was taken until 8 p. m., and when the convention met again balloting was resumed, resulting in the nomination of A. R. McGill on the fourth ballot, he receiving 199 votes. The ticket was then completed as follows: Lieutenant governor, A. E. Rice; secretary of state, Hans Mattson, auditor, Capt. W. W. Braden; treasurer, Col. J. Bobleter; attorney general, M. E. Clapp.

The platform adopted declares that in behalf of the farmers; the warehouse and railroad law should be amended so as to secure an open and free market for the products of the soil; that railroads, where it can be legally done, should be restrained from holding free lands exempt from taxation; calls for reduction of interest to 8 per cent., and enforcement of the usury law, and for the building of a soldiers' home; advocates pensions to disabled soldiers; favors a law prohibiting further issue of watered stock; demands that railroad companies shall be debarred from issuing passes to the legislature; demands a bureau of statistics; favors paying women the same as men for labor; calls for laws to prohibit children under 12 from working in mines, etc.; denounces prison labor; favors arbitration for the settlement of disputes; favors legislation to renew the free coinage of silver; declares that the reduction of freight and passenger tariffs, begun under the Republican party, should be continued, and such charges should be limited to fair compensation; that the state should use a portion of the income of the school fund to purchase school books for use in the public schools of the state; demands proper laws giving damages in case of injuries to employes, and that the employer be liable for damage whether the employe is negligent or not; favors a revision of the tariff so that taxation on the necessaries of life may be reduced; and is strong for civil service reform.

Nominations for Congress.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 23.—A Beatrice special to The Herald says: "In the Republican congressional convention Wednesday, Church Howe was nominated on first ballot. He got 94 out of 157 votes."

PITTSBURG, Sept. 23.—The Democratic conferees of the Twenty-first congressional district, composed of Fayette, West Moreland and Green counties, after repeated ballots Wednesday nominated Gilbert Rafferty, a wealthy coke manufacturer of this city, defeating Hon. C. E. Boyle, the present member and chairman of the Pan-Electric investigation committee. Mr. Boyle contends that the conferees had no right to go outside the district for a nominee, and will run independent.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—H. H. Bingham was renominated from the First congressional district, Charles O'Neill from the Second, W. D. Kelley from the Fourth, and A. C. Harmer from the Fifth, by the Republicans Wednesday. The convention in the Third district adjourned for two weeks without making a nomination.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Sept. 23.—The Democrats of the Ninth congressional district in convention here Wednesday nominated Benjamin F. Hans, a Clinton county farmer.

DETROIT, Sept. 23.—Henry A. Robinson, labor candidate for congress, was Wednesday indorsed by the Republican congressional convention to oppose J. Logan Chapman the Democratic nominee.

Other congressional nominations Wednesday were as follows: Democratic—Hiram H. Cody in the Eighth Illinois, John Black in the Fourth Wisconsin, Hugh J Gallagher in the Third Wisconsin, and J. K. Marsh in the Third Indiana, vice Stockslager. Republican—L. B. Caswell in the First Wisconsin district.

A Somnambulistic Suicide.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 23.—Ed Wilson, employed on a farm twelve miles from Evansville, got up during Sunday night in his sleep, went to the barn and attempted to commit suicide by hanging, but through a mistake tied a rope around his feet instead of his neck, and then jumped from the loft. The sudden stopping at the end of the rope awoke Wilson, leaving little breath in his body and almost scaring him to death. His cries aroused the household and he was rescued. Wilson has been a somnambulist for years, and suicide is always a hobby, but not when awake.

Bulldozing at a Primary.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—J. R. Lloyd, common councilor; Constable Vance, and ex-Deputy Constable Schick were arrested Wednesday, charged with driving election officers from a Republican primary election poll at Reidenbach's saloon Tuesday night with revolvers, and breaking open the ballot box. They were bound over for examination.

Capsized the Schooner.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 23.—During a violent southerly gale Tuesday night the British schooner Little Gem was struck by an off-headland squall, capsized and sunk. Two lady passengers were drowned. The crew clung to the bottom of a small boat washed off the deck and were picked up and landed at King's Cove by a passing vessel.

Hay Fever

Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me by my druggist as a preventive to hay fever. Have been using it as directed and have found it a specific for that much dreaded and loathsome disease. For ten years or more I have been a great sufferer each year, from August 9th till frost, and have tried many alleged remedies for its cure, but Ely's Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found. Hay fever sufferers ought to know of its efficacy.—F. B. Ainsworth, of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Publishers, Indianapolis, Ind.

HIRAM HAINES, P. M.

A good audience was in attendance at the prohibition meeting Wednesday evening Sept. 8th, to hear the Rev. E. L. Eaton give his views on the temperance question. The audience was kept in good nature for two hours or more listening to the reverend gentleman, who is full of stories and being a natural actor he can put them before his audience in a way that touches their laughabilities at once. The speaker used some very strong arguments and his cause was so well received that a prohibition club was formed with 32 members with the Rev. J. Anderson as president.

—Mrs. Dr. LeDuc, of Aurora, Illinois, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. H. Manley.

—Mrs. Reynolds and daughter, of Cleveland, Ohio, are guests at the home of James Haggart and family.

—Mrs. L. C. Randall has been home for a few days and then returned to the home of her son, W. S. Randall, of Brandon, Wis.

—Ex-Sheriff James Leonardson, of Jefferson, Mich., has been spending the past week with Mrs. J. P. Fonda and family. Mr. Leonardson came to attend the funeral of J. P. Fonda and now goes to visit friends in Waterloo, Wis.

—J. A. Holmes and family, of Beloit, were in town calling on friends and visiting his brother, Thos. Holmes.

—Rev. J. Anderson is moving his goods to his son's in the northern part of the state. His wife will go east visiting friends in New York. It is understood that Mr. Anderson will retire from active labor in the ministery for the present.

—Peter Fonda has his cider mill in running order and is doing a large business. Bring him good apples and Uncle Pete will make you some fine cider.

—Chas. H. Belding, proprietor of the Eclipse Poultry Yards, has returned from a successful tour in the northwest, attending the fair at St. Paul, Minn., the Park Exposition at Fergus Falls, Minn., and the North Dakota fair at Grand Forks. Charlie feels justly proud of his success, having captured over 200 premiums during the trip and saw some fine country and some not so fine. It is his intention to attend the Elkhorn fair which will be the wind up for the season.

—Harry Brunson and Miss Mary Koerner, day telephone operator, at Janesville, spent the Sabbath with O. P. Bronson and family.

SHOPIERE—The weather could not have been more favorable for late tobacco than it has been this season. All the crops are harvested and in the shed with no rust or what marks to speak of, many of our growers will change their manner of planting next season and not wait for showers of rain, but dry set if the ground is properly prepared and ready. Some who dry set this year, not expecting that half of the plants would live, find that nearly all did live, and some of the best tobacco has been harvested from that setting. It will not be safe to count on such a favorable September every year as we have had this year.

Afton.

—Several Afton people attended the Rock county fair last week. Friday was in reality the big day this year, an immense crowd being on the grounds that day.

—Mrs. A. B. Waterman is no longer a resident of our village, having moved to the Blind Institute, where she has been employed, and where she will in the future reside. Mrs. M. McCrea will move into Mrs. Waterman's house and thus our population will not be decreased any.

—Repairs are being made on the flume at the Afton mill this week.

—Mr. Chas. Griffen, formerly of this town, but now a farmer doing business in the great state of Iowa, is home on a visit.

—Two new changes in the time table of the Madison Division C. & N. W. Ry. has been made. Chicago passenger No. 2 which formerly arrived at 2:55 p. m. now arrives at 2:52; and St. Paul Passenger No. 5 which arrived at 6:21 p. m. now arrives at 6:30.

—Prohibition Club meeting on Wednesday evening of this week.

—The funeral of Mr. Washington Mills, who was run over and killed by the Madison excursion train about ¾ of a mile west of the station last Thursday evening, was attended by a large concourse of sympathizing friends of the family. Services were conducted by Rev Dr. Hodge of Janesville.

An End to Bone Scraping

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill. says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents per box by F. Sherer & Co.

Orfordville.

—Last Sunday afternoon Ole O. Onsgard, Sr. bade good by to this world and crossed over on the other side of the river of life to eternity. Mr. Onsgard was born among the cliffs of Norway in the parish of Ness, in the diocese of Hallingdal, on the 17th of May, 1827. He emigrated to this country in the bloom of his age, and learned the mason trade, which he had followed till quite recently when his health began to fail. Financially he was well fixed, owning a nice farm with good improvements. Mr. Onsgard leaves a family of 6 children to mourn his departure. He was sick only a few days from the brain fever that ended his life. His departure is mourned by all who knew him and the bereaved family have the sympathy of all. Funeral Thursday.

—A rumor is afloat that there is a wedding programmed for next Thursday. Guess who?

—A big party was held at Mr. P. J. Snorad's last Friday evening that long will be in the remembrance of those in attendance.

—We have heard so much about the Salvation Army so we thought we would see for ourselves. A visit to their camp in Brodhead recently made us think that this is a free country and that every one can worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience. We wonder if the famished Puritans that landed on Plymouth Rock in 1620 felt as happy as the Salvation Army of the present day. Although we do not fancy their way of worship, still we wish them success, as they are doing abundant good. We wonder if Orford is going to get left on the Salvation Army question.

To the Cuticura Remedies I Owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be seen in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines, failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally (the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the Cuticura Remedies, North, South, East and West. To Cuticura Remedies I owe my Health, my Happiness, and my Life. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the Cuticura Remedies you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and I shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the Cuticura Remedies." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those who use them, as dozens have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

M. HUSBANDS,

Sneezing Catarrh

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headache—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous Relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

—The senatorial campaign is again warming up.

—Jackson street near the railroad track is being repaired.

—Janesville Commandery No. 2 Knights Templar, assemble in regular semi-monthly conclave this evening at Masonic hall.

—The Young Mens' Quadrille club, an organization to give a series of dances at the Rifles armory is the latest society that has been formed here.

—A delivery wagon that is a little ahead of anything of the kind in the city is now on the streets bearing the legend "Conrad & Baker.

—Rockford Gazette: Artesian well No. 3 has reached a depth of 1,675 feet. The drill is working in red sandstone. There is no increase in the flow of water. The average progress of the drill downward is now ten feet every twenty-four hours.

—Yesterday was the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs Andrew Palmer and last evening there was an informal family gathering at Mr. Palmer's home in the fourth ward in honor of their golden wedding. The evening was spent very pleasantly by all present.

—One man who went to the concert last night remarked that he wished his wife would take more interest in such things—it would be worth two dollars just to see her as an angel once. She happened to be right behind him and now the chances are that that man won't have any pie for dinner much before next spring.

—There is evidently great need of a high license in Beloit. When a prominent citizen mails a bundle of papers by putting them on the floor under the stamp window, and then calls his wife at twelve o'clock at night to come down and hold the piazza still so that he can stand on it there is evidently great need of reform.

—We would inform those who have been turned away from the office within the past few days because there was no room for any more names on our books that we have made a contract with one of the largest book binderies in Chicago and will now be able to accommodate all who wish to become subscribers, although there has been some delay caused by the rush.

—"Snipe" hunters are meeting with good luck just now. Yesterday two gentlemen went out and captured sixty of the little birds, and were only gone a few hours. Elated at their good luck they now propose a visit to the western part of the county in hopes of capturing larger game, the wild geese in that locality being reported plenty and fat.

—Mrs. St. John, Mrs. Bintliff and Prof. Torrens wish to express their warm et thanks to all those who by their hearty cooperation helped to make the concert on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings a success—especially to those who so efficiently managed the stage and assisted in the arrangement of the transformation scenes and tableaux.

—At the First Assembly District convention held at Footville yesterday, at 12 o'clock, Mr. W. M. Nye, of the town of Beloit, was nominated for the assembly. After an informal ballot, resulting in 17 votes for Mr. Nye, 8 votes for Mr. Seth Fisher, of Center, 1 vote for Mr. John Smiley, of Plymouth, and 1 vote for Mr. Alcott, of Spring Valley, Mr. Nye was unanimously nominated by acclamation.

—Rockford Register:—Considerable excitement has been awakened over the report that a silver mine had been struck Winnebago. J. Mack, a well digger, while working at a farm ten miles southwest of that village, brought up several lumps of a silvery looking substance from ten feet below the surface. It is said that there is quite a strata of similar stuff and specimens have been sent to Springfield for analysis. Whether there is anything to it or not remains to be seen. But a silver mine in this country would make things hum.

—Not one person in a hundred probably understands that from and after October 1st, the special delivery system will extend to every postoffice in the United States and to all mailable matter. Then by fixing a 10-cent special delivery stamp, in addition to the regular postage, a letter, paper or package of merchandise of any kind that is mailable will be delivered at once to the party to whom directed. Heretofore the special delivery system only covered letters and the larger postoffices. The change extending it to all postoffices and to all mailable matter of whatever class, will make it far more useful.

—The Commercial College will open the full course of studies upon Monday September 20th, Prof. Silsbee presiding. In advance of opening already there are an unusual number of full course students now at work. The course of study is improved so as to interest young men from the day they begin, to graduation. The student enters like a clerk in a great business emporium and receives his promotions according to merit and advancement in business ability until he has acted in every capacity of business men. All branches in which he may be deficient are given him without additional charge; and at conclusion he receives a diploma, showing his true worth as a business man.

—Messrs. N. W. Ayers & Sons, the wide awake advertising house of Philadelphia, are just out with their "Annual" for 1886. The work is neatly bound in cloth, containing about one thousand pages of valuable information. One of its chief features is a carefully prepared description of every county in the United States, setting forth its location, area, adjoining navigable streams, the character of its surface, the nature of its soil, its leading crops and manufactures, its county seat and population. A similar, but more elaborate descriptive heading, is appended to each state, territory, and Canadian Province Among its exhaustive and interesting tables are those showing the cities, towns, and villages of the United States having a population of five thousand and upwards, arranged in alphabetical order; how many counties there are in each state; in how many of these newspapers are published; in how many towns of each state papers exist, and how many of these towns are county-seats and how many newspapers there are altogether in the country at large, or in any of its great sections, or in any state territory, or Canadian province, or how many there are of each issue, and a comparative statement of the increase in 1886 over 1885. Absolute perfection in a work of this character is an impossibility, but we have the consciousness that all that pain staking effort could do to prevent error has been done in the present edition. Price $3.00, carriage paid.

THE REGISTRY LAW.

Some Important Facts for Voters to Consider.

[From the Racine Journal.]

Secretary of State E. G. Timme has sent out copies of the amended election laws to the various city and county clerks and it is seen that very important changes have been made which are not generally known to voters. The law regarding registration has been changed so that boards of registry shall hold their first meeting three weeks before election instead of four weeks before, as heretofore, and the second meeting will in future be held one week instead of two weeks before election, as was formerly the case. Many inconsistancies, it is said, are to be found in the amended election law, and there are a number of conflicting passages. Section 8, chapter 289, laws of 1885, provides that no ballot shall be received at any general election unless the name of the person offering to vote be found upon the register, as completed by the board of registry. In other words, under the strict construction of the law, no man can vote unless he has been registered, all persons having failed, through negligence, sickness or absence from the city, to do so, being disfranchised. According to this no person can swear in his vote. As the Wisconsin supreme court, it is said, decided a few years ago in the Dells case, that no legal voter can be deprived of his vote, it is the opinion of many legal gentlemen that the law will not hold good. Section 10 of the same chapter, provides that the ballots cast at any election shall be preserved and turned over to the city clerk instead of being destroyed as heretofore. Under section 3, chapter 464, laws of 1885, the inspectors are required to transmit the ballots cast at city, town and village elections to the city or town clerks, and the section further provides that at other elections held the ballots shall be transmitted to the county clerk. This it will be seen, is in direct conflict with section 10, chapter 389, laws of 1885, which is quoted above. Section 1, chapter 464, provides that whenever an inspector receives a challenged vote, before the ballot is deposited in the box, he must write on the back of the ballot the same number which is set down opposite the voter's name on the tally sheet. This, it is claimed, if carried out, would violate the principle of the secret ballot.

Personal.

—W. R. Brown, of this city, is now sampling tobacco for Beloit packers.

—John Menzies, deputy clerk of the circuit court has been at Elkhorn as a witness before the court of Walworth county.

—Mrs. Jefferson Muradon, of Madison, is visiting in the city, a guest of Mrs. E. I. Fidell of the first ward.

—Mr. A. J. Harrison, of Lone Rock, is in the city to-day to attend the veterans' reunion. Years ago Mr. Harrison resided in Janesville, being employed in the jewelry establishment of W. W. Dexter & Co. This is his first visit to Janesville in fifteen years.

—Mr. R. M. Davenport, of Dakota, is in the city in the interests of the "National Union," a mutual beneficiary order similar in character to the Royal Arcanum. The organization has been in existence for the past five and a half years and claims to be the best and cheapest insurance order in the country. The organization has a membership of 15,000 and the death rate is so low that members at the age of forty were only required to pay $10 for $5,000 insurance during the past nine months.

—The Rev. A. J. Van Wagner and family took their final leave of Janesville this morning. Mr. Van Wagner has gone to Peoria Ill., where he has engaged to supply the pulpit of the First Congregational church for three months, during the absence of their pastor. Mrs. Van Wagner has gone with her mother who is apparently in failing health, to remain with her at that place during her sickness. Mr. Van Wagner leaves many warm and sincere friends in this city who wish him abundant success in his future field of labor. He desires to thank those citizens of Janesville who have been his true and faithful friends; for their fidelity and kindness, and to assure them that their many words of kindness and appreciation will long be remembered by him and his wife.

A Harvest Home.

The Trinity Episcopal church presented a bright and beautiful appearance this morning as the Holy Communion service was being celebrated. Over each door was a cluster of grain and vegetables. Inside, each chandelier was decorated with fruit and nut ladened branches, each of the choir seats bore a branch of wheat and over the reading desk and the organ were festoons of vines mingled with the red berries of the bitter sweet White ears of corn, and other fruits of the harvest were in the windows; while on the alter were bunches of wheat heads mingled with clusters of fully ripened grapes, symbolizing the bread and wine of communion.

Much of the grain, the fruit and the vegetables used came from Mr. Bartholomew Spence

This evening there will be a special "Harvest Home" service commencing at half past seven. After that there will be a supper served in Apollo hall, at which a history of the parish will be read by the rector, Rev. J. F. Conover, D. D.

CAPTURED BY CASWELL.

Break Up of the Demoralized Cooper and Weeks Forces.

Twenty-seven Votes for the Jefferson Statesman on the 134th Ballot.

The Nomination Made Unanimous and Endorsed by the Defeated Candidates.

End of the Deadlock.

[From the Racine Journal.]

ELKHORN, Sept. 22.—The long agony is over. On the one hundred and thirty-fourth ballot L. B. Caswell was nominated, the vote recorded being Caswell 27, Cavanaugh 6, Littlejohn 3, Cooper 1, blank 2. Both Weeks and Cooper were formally withdrawn this morning and the three counties opposing Caswell were unable to agree upon a new man. On motion the nomination of Caswell was made unanimous. The convention appointed a committee of three to wait on Mr. Caswell and also invite Mr. Cooper and Mr. Weeks to come before the convention. A vote of thanks was returned to Walworth county for courtesies and the use of the hall and thanks were also returned to the chairman for his services. Chairman Cavanaugh thanked the members of the convention for their patience and good nature. A congressional committee was selected as follows: Racine county, H A. Sheldon; Kenosha, G. A. Yule; Walworth, N. M. Littlejohn; Rock, M. V. Pratt; Jefferson, G. C. Smith. The basis of representation in the next convention was fixed the same as now, one delegate for every five hundred republican votes and major fraction thereof cast at the last presidential election. Mr. Caswell made a speech of acceptance and was followed by Mr. Cooper and Mr. Weeks in speeches accepting the result and endorsing the nominee.

TWO CANDIDATES WITHDRAW.

ELKHORN, Wis., Sep. 22—If any one had predicted yesterday that but one candidate would be in the field this morning he would certainly have been thought crazy. Such is the case at this writing and Caswell survives the work done last night. Out of twenty he only wants one and he now has a mighty good chance to get it. The convention convenes in a short time and a lively skirmish will be had for a brief period. Both Cooper and Weeks are out of the race, and whether or not Mr. Weeks has a successor for candidacy in N. M. Littlejohn will soon be known.

The record now stands at the one hundred and thirty third ballot, taken at about 11 o'clock last night, and giving the former 10-11-9 combination. The changes in the personnell of the convention will this morning show up some new faces and empty seats.

WHAT DID IT.

During the evening session it was perfectly evident that the convention was in a mood for business, and ballot after ballot was taken with no change, nor the least visible evidence of any change. It was clear that something must be done to break the deadlock, and to that end a hasty conference took place between two of the leaders, and a recess was taken for half an hour. The proposition agreed upon was for the two candidates to meet and decide in any manner that seemed fit to themselves which of the two should be the candidate. If they could not agree on that, they were to agree on a third man, and if they could not agree upon him they were both to resign. In accordance with this the business began, and in order to fix up a little internal trouble in the Walworth county camp the convention reassembled, some more ballots were taken and another adjournment had for an hour. The matter then took definite shape and the delegates turned loose in a room with all visible evidences of warfare removed. This session lasted until midnight and the convention once more reassembled. The Rock and Jefferson county men were going to stay up all night if any nomination could be arrived at. No further balloting took place and the convention took a recess until 1 o'clock. The two candidates failed to agree and in accordance with the understanding upon so failing they were both out of the ring. Of course, during all this interim there was a vast amount of standing around and talking, but the delegates had made up their minds that in some way the vexed question must be set at rest. A misunderstanding was reported from Mr. Weeks, and it was reported he had said he would decide what he would do at 10 o'clock Wednesday. As the stipulations provided that in the event of no agreement last night at the conference, they were to both be out of the field, Mr. Weeks, by his own forces, was then and there withdrawn, if not formally at least everyone so understood; so at nine o'clock in the morning the two men were out and the Caswell people smiling vigorously over the situation. That needed one vote was looming up near by.

Mr. N. M. Littlejohn, it is understood, will be a candidate but it is very doubtful indeed if he can secure any votes from Racine or Kenosha counties. It is at this hour certain that the Weeks crowd will under no circumstances whatever agree upon supporting a man from what Racine understands as the lake shore, therefore all thought of Mr. Quarles or any Racine man must be dismissed. Mr. Cooper this morning met his delegates and in a few well chosen words thanked them for their support. It is evident that Mr. Cooper has been more than fair and generous to Mr. Weeks, and in all his offers to settle the question made Mr. Weeks more concessions than Mr. Cooper's delegates thought right. He has been more than fair all the way through and has the sympathy of everybody outside of the convention.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 61 degrees above zero. Cloudy with east wind. At one o'clock p m. the register was 85 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind. For corresponding hours one year ago the register was 42 and 65 degrees above zero.

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial disease are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

THE VETERANS MEET!

A Reunion of Company F, Sixteenth Regiment.

They Gather here to talk over the Old Times.

A Good Attendance.

The Grand Army hall to-day presented an unusually lively scene. Company F, of the Sixteenth Wisconsin Volunteers, held its reunion there and around the room were the groups of old and middle aged men who had marched shoulder to shoulder during the weary years of the rebellion.

By the side of the commander's desk sat Col. Thomas Reynolds, gray and wrinkled but still every inch a soldier, Major Craig, who led the company through so many engagements arrived this afternoon and was kept busy for some time shaking hands with the men who were so proud of the fact that they had done their fighting under him.

The battle flags of the regiment were of much interest. Those that were carried at the beginning of the war were literally shot into threads and those that saw service during the last part of the "unpleasantness" were also torn and ragged, although not so much so as the others.

Upon some of the veterans time seemed to have had little effect. There were some round and jolly, whose faces were only wrinkled with smiles, but there were others whose grey hair showed that the years were making their mark. The wives and daughters were in the post parlors visiting among themselves and at half past one the whole party sat down to long tables on which the Janesville ladies had spread a bountiful dinner. Those who are in attendance at the reunion are:

Col. Tom. Reynolds, Madison.
Major Joseph Craig, Chicago, Ill.
Lieut. W. S. Scribner, Chicago.
H. L. Phillips, Beloit.
Frank E. Peck, Beloit.

C. M. Smith, Waseca, Minn.
Hiram Conry, San Prairie.

F. S. Fenton, 5th Wis., Beloit.
A. B. Ward, 5th Wis., Beloit.
Mayhew London, 5th Wis., Janesville
F. W. London, 5th Wis., Janesville.

The officers of the company organization are:

J. R. West, president, Evansville.
C. M. Smith, secretary, Waseca, Minn.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, Col. Reynolds, of Madison, addressed the veterans as follows:

Comrades: This being the first reunion of any part of the regiment at which any considerable number of the members of all the companies have been present, and I being the senior officer in attendance, I deem it fitting and proper on behalf of those here not members of company F, to thank the men of that company for their enterprise in arranging this meeting and to congratulate them upon the success of their undertaking. And seeing so many faces familiar to me amid the stirring scenes of the war I recall with emotion the feelings which crowded upon me early in my acquaintance with the men composing the new companies of the regiment.

It was my misfortune to be absent from the command a large portion of the time between your joining the regiment and the close of the rebellion, but I was with you long enough to know and appreciate your worth as soldiers. When the attack on Leggett's Hill was ordered on the 21st of July, I confess I had some apprehension for the result. At that time the 16th Wisconsin had a standing in the estimation of the general officers equal to that of any similar organization in the great Army of the Tennessee. Prior to this four new companies, yours among the number, had been added to the regiment, none of which had ever been in a general engagement, or in other words had ever been "tried by fire." These facts were unknown by our brigade and division commanders, hence the regiment was put in the front line of the attacking column, with the 12th Wisconsin under command of its veteran Colonel George E. Bryant on the right. No one doubted the individual bravery of the men of those companies, but the history of the war up to that time showed that more than individual bravery was required, particularly in passing through such a fiery ordeal as was then before us; but if you had not been disciplined under fire you had unbounded faith in the cause in which you were engaged, and in the invincibility of the great captain who was then directing your movements—"Uncle Billy" Sherman as the boys fondly called him. Just as the advance was ordered our gallant and lamented Colonel Cassius Fairchild, while crossing a ravine, stumbled and fell against a stump renewing the suffering caused by the terrible wound he had received at Shiloh. Major Wm. F. Dawes, since deceased, had the immediate command of the new levy, and reported to me "that there was no flinching in his part of the line; that the new men were equal to Wellington's veterans at Waterloo." The regiment's advance was through an open field and up the slope of the hill. The flag fell several times but as quick as thought it was raised again by new hands. The last time, however, a momentary delay in raising it was caused by the fact that every member of the color guard had either been killed or seriously wounded. It was a moment of awful suspense—but we had a young hero at hand who took in the situation at a glance—Lieut. Thos. McCauley, of company G—and seizing the flag from the grasp of the dying color sergeant, and proudly waving it, he bounded up the hill and planted it on top of the rebel breastworks—the regiment was with him—the victory was complete, and the Hill, which was acknowledged to be the key to Atlanta, was ours. General Leggett, in his address before the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, at Cleveland, Ohio, in October 1883, said, "some of the prisoners said with both pride and chagrin that this was the first time Pat Clybourns division was ever routed, and General Harden (confederate) in his report of the operations around Atlanta said: "that it was the bitterest fight of Gen. Clybourne's life." The victory was brilliant but our loss was terrible. I can pay no greater compliment to the brave men composing the new companies than to say that their conduct on this ever memorable occasion was fully equal to that of the old veterans.

In conclusion permit me to offer you my personal thanks for your kind invitation to attend this reunion, and to express my great gratification at meeting so many of my comrades here.

The social gathering will be continued at post headquarters this evening.

The Second Night.

The Choral Union concert was even more of a scoess last night than on the night before. Everything showed the result of thorough practice. Choruses were more effective, the scenes better arranged and while in the programme on Tuesday night there seemed very little room for improvement, yet little touches had been added that gave a sense of completeness and drew forth much praise.

The audience was a more demonstrative one than on the first evening, hearty applause greeting each especially excellent number.

Dr. Thor Judd, who has had charge of the scenic effects, succeeded in placing on the stage tableaux such as have never been attempted in any similar entertainment in the city. They were striking and beautiful, that of the angel chorus being especially notable.

In "The Enchanted Swans" Mrs. J. W. St. John and Mrs. A. O. Wilson were both enthusiastically received. The double quartette of ladies was very effective and from its novelty was especially entertaining.

Miss Hattie Dearborn as "Cinderella" carried out her part to perfection. The entire cast was a very good one and it is impossible to speak of the various excellent features.

Those who had charge of the other features may also feel that they have achieved a success. The concerts have been well received and will be remembered with pleasure by those who were fortunate enough to hear them.
